Modern laptop computers offer all the power and functionality of a desktop. However, the proximity of the keyboard to the screen forces postures which can cause wrist, back, neck and/or shoulder discomfort.

Our stands enable the user to raise the screen to a suitable height and attach a separate keyboard and mouse. This provides an environment similar to that offered by a desktop, minimising user pain and increasing productivity.

For further assistance, please refer to our Posture Guide.

 - These dimensions vary depending on the available packaging

Many new laptops are issued with a bag for transportation but this is usually selected according to how well it protects the computer. We think about how to protect the user!

Our backpacks all have padded shoulder straps and are designed to fit comfortably and distribute the load evenly across the back. Our larger "roller" bags have wheels and handles for easy transportation. When selecting a bag, consider:

- The size of your laptop.
- What else you need to carry.
- Where you are going to be transporting your laptop (to and from the car, on the underground, on and off aircraft, etc).
- What weight you can manage comfortably.
